

Call for Posters

Personal Dietary Requirements :

Novel pathologies, self-diagnoses, elective taboos and health regimens.

January 19-20, 2012, Institut Pasteur, Paris

OCHA Symposium chaired by Claude Fischler

This call is open to graduate students, young researchers and professionals interested in addressing the topic of the conference, i.e. the growing phenomenon of individualized dietary requirements, whether they stem from biological, pathological causes or personal rules and preferences. Posters should present original research in biology, nutrition, immunology (etc.) and/or the social sciences. Interdisciplinary approaches will be much appreciated.

Each submission will include the following information:

- Title of poster
- Name and affiliation, including postal address, telephone, email
- A 25 line summary (1500 characters, 250 words)
- CV and bibliography

Font: Times New Roman, 11 pts

Line spacing : 1,5

Margins : 2,5 cm

Submission should be in the form of attachment to email to: vpardo@cniel.com

Deadline for submission: 25 november 2011

Results of the selection process to be announced by email by december 15.

Accepted posters will be presented in the entry hall of Institut Pasteur and in the foyer of the amphitheater hosting the conference. Presentation by the authors will be scheduled during the conference.

A 1000 euro best-poster award will be attributed.
